

Peace Outlook In Korea War Not Too Bright

Dickers Give Enemy Propaganda Holiday

WASHINGTON—(P)—Communist propaganda treatment of the Kaesong truce talks was described by top officials today as evidence that the outlook for peace in Korea is far from bright.

They held this view even before a new incident led to at least temporary breaking off of cease-fire talks.

The caution with which official Washington approached the opening of the negotiations earlier this week has been deepened by the Red use of publicity as a weapon at the bargaining table.

Pessimism Increases

One informed source who may not be named told a reporter the present situation gives no cause for optimism. In fact, he said, if any emotion is justified as the eventual outcome it is pessimism.

Washington authorities emphasized that nothing has been agreed on so far except some procedures for future meetings, that the Communists are already fixing their negotiating position by public statements and that meanwhile the military buildup in the field continues.

State department authorities have been most deeply disturbed by the Pyongyang and Peiping radio broadcasts of a three-point demand for a cease-fire agreement which the Red negotiators assertedly introduced at Kaesong.

The terms thus presented call for a buffer zone on the 38th Par-

Flood Disaster Hits Kansas; 7 Dead And Thousands Homeless

TOPEKA, Kas. — (P)— Flood waters poured over eastern and central Kansas in the greatest torrent in the state's history today and lapped over into parts of Missouri leaving seven dead and five to eight missing.

At least five persons were dead in Kansas, and two in Missouri. Two more were killed by lightning at Ford Leonard Wood, Mo., which was not affected by floods. Army engineers estimated flood damage at $85,000,000 and said it likely would go higher.

Factories Threatened
The Kansas river valley was the hardest hit. The Blue river in Missouri was overflowing in Kansas City, threatening many industrial plants on the city's eastern edge.

Many of the state's major cities were deep under the waters of the swollen Kansas river, including the north Topeka and Oakland sections of Topeka, the state capital; the northern portion of Lawrence, home of Kansas university; Manhattan, Abilene, and parts of Kansas City, Kansas.

Hundreds of residents of north Topeka were trapped by water that poured through two levee breaks and covered the area to a depth of six feet or more.

The business district at Abilene only the tops of parking meters showed above water in the business section.

Trains were stranded. Motorists were marooned. The national guard, the air force, marines, coast guard and Red Cross all joined volunteers in aiding evacuees and patrolling dikes.

Boats were flown to some

U. S. A. And Britain Unveil Peace Pact Written For Japan

WASHINGTON — (P)— The United States and Britain as co-sponsors formally unveiled today a "peace of reconciliation" with Japan they expect to be signed by some 50 nations.

Ambassador John Foster Dulles, in charge of negotiations for the U. S., said it was still hoped Soviet Russia would join in the settlement. But he gave notice the other nations often will make peace without Moscow.

Treaty Unique

The treaty, which Dulles termed "unique" in history, is due to be signed at San Francisco the week of Sept. 3. It strips Japan of its pre-World War Two overseas holdings, but permits the Japanese to rearm and in other major respects restores the former defeated empire to the status of a sovereign equal in the free world.

The signing is to be followed by a U. S.-Japanese pact permitting the U. S. to retain troops and military bases in and near Japan, pending the future creation of a system of collective security for the Pacific. A three-way security pact among the U. S., Australia, and New Zealand and a separate commercial treaty between this country and Japan are parts of the general settlement.

Business Prospers

When the treaty comes into force, perhaps early next year, American occupation payments to Japan of $300,000,000 to $400,000,000 a year will cease. Dulles told reporters it depends largely on Korean developments whether the U. S. then will be called upon to add Japan to the list of nations receiving American aid. Japan now is prospering from war orders from the Korean fighting.

Dulles said he hoped Russia will sign but that so far the Soviets have not indicated any zeal to do so. He said that the other nations will proceed in any event and noted that Moscow has no veto.

Bail Reinstated On 15 U. S. Reds

Civil Rights Congress Bond Disqualified

NEW YORK — (P)— Bail of 15 Communists, cancelled yesterday by Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan, was reinstated today by Judge Learned Hand of the United States court of appeals.

The reinstated bail was posted by the bail fund of the Civil Rights Congress of New York. Ryan had ordered it revoked after describing the fund's trustees as "unworthy of trust."

Ryan had sentenced three of the trustees to jail for contempt of court when they refused to reveal records showing who contributed to the bail fund.

Judge Hand also set bail of $10,000 each, pending appeal, for Dashiell Hammett, mystery story writer, and Dr. W. Alpheus Hunton, secretary of the council of African affairs, both trustees of the bail fund.

Ryan had sentenced them to six months for contempt. Frederick Vanderbilt Field, a third trustee and secretary of the fund, sentenced to 90 days by Ryan, earlier had obtained $10,000 bail from his wife.

Plane Brings First Migrant Mexicans To Fields In Michigan

SAGINAW — (P)— Movement by airplane of migrant workers to Michigan fields is underway.

The first group of 99 arrived yesterday at the Tri-City Airport near here. It is planned to bring in 1,300 Mexican Nationals within the next week.

The first group came from Grand Forks, N. D., where they have been working in the beet fields. Other plane loads of workers are scheduled to arrive later this week at Lansing, Grand Rapids and Traverse City.

Most of the migrants are scheduled to work in cucumber fields. Some will work with beets and others with cherries.

Honey Drips

PONTIAC — (P)— Things are buzzing at the League of Catholic Women Home in Pontiac. Bees have taken over the attic and now honey is dripping down from the floor. The league said it will give the honey to anyone who can get rid of the bees.

Heilmann Rites Held In Detroit

Many Thousands Pay Final Tribute

DETROIT — (P)— A saddened Detroit paid its last respects today to Harry Heilmann.

Funeral services for the ball player whom a great city came to love were held at 11 a. m. (EST) at the famous shrine of the Little Flower in suburban Royal Oak.

Heilmann, the former great outfielder and slugger of the Detroit Tigers and later radio broadcaster of Tiger games, died Monday of cancer. He was 56.

Many thousands of persons passed his bier at a funeral parlor here. Not since the death of Henry Ford the elder in 1947 has there been such an outpouring of mourners for a public figure.

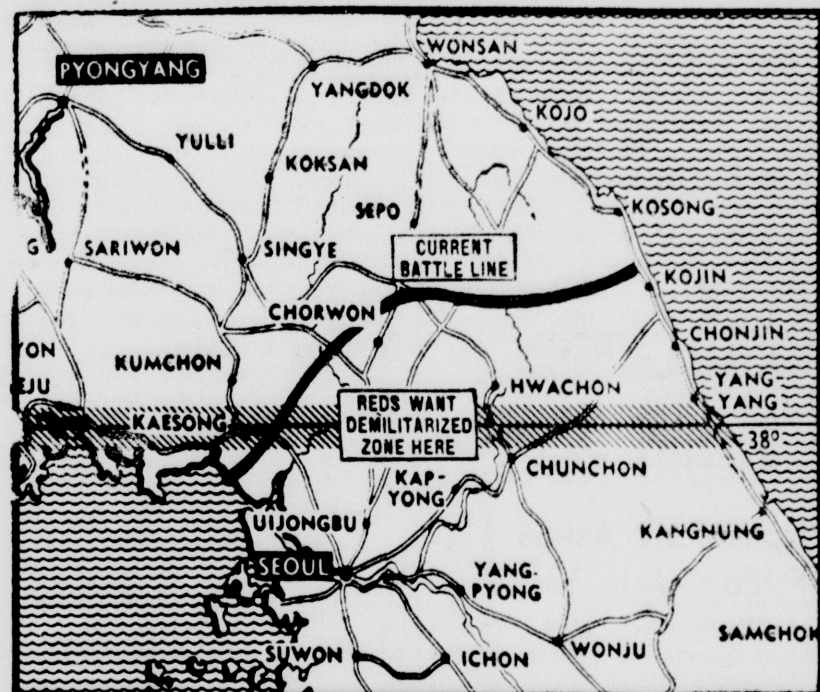

As it did for Ford, the city council passed a memorial resolution.

Harry's wife, Mae, was reported near exhaustion after a three-day vigil at his bier. Her children, Harry, Jr., and Mary Ellen, were at her side for the funeral.

Close friends of Heilmann were pall bearers. They included Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, Jr., vice president of the Detroit Baseball Co.; Clair Berry, Tiger secretary, and Edwin W. Anderson, president of the Goebel Brewing Co., Harry's radio sponsor.

BARRED FROM KAESONG—Five Allied photographers picked to provide news and picture coverage of historic cease-fire talks in Korea were stopped by R.-d guards along with other newsmen on their way to Kaesong. This halted the peace talks and the convoy turned back. Left to right are: Noble of BBC; Joseph Scherschel of Life magazine; Jim Healy of Axle News Pictures; Gene Zerner of Warner Brothers-Pathe newsreel, and seated in the foreground is Jim Pongle of the Associated Press. WHAT COMMUNISTS WANT—The shaded area on the newsmap indicates where the Communists demand a buffer zone approximately six miles to the south of the 38th parallel. In addition the Reds want an immediate cease-fire by all military forces, and withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea within the shortest possible time. On the battlefield (heavy black line) only limited probing action is taking place. (NEA Telephoto)

U. S. Trouble Shooter Harriman To Tackle Oil Dispute In Iran

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON—(P)—W. Averell Harriman will leave for Iran in a day or so to see whether there is any possibility of salvaging an Anglo-Iranian settlement out of a situation which most officials here regard as little short of desperate.

The White House announced late yesterday that President Truman's diplomatic trouble shooter would leave within 48 hours; Iranian premier Mohammed Mossadegh had accepted Mr. Truman's offer to send Harriman out to discuss the dispute over oil nationalization.

Highly placed officials said Harriman will carry no instructions that would serve as a magic key to end the impasse and restore harmonious Iranian-British relations. Instead, they said, Harriman's initial task will be to determine whether there is any possibility of working out an arrangement at this late date.

The most hopeful thing about his mission, it was said, is the fact that he will be what diplomatic authorities call a "new element" in the situation. A fresh viewpoint, a different personality, a man with Harriman's prestige and special relationship to the president may perhaps turn up an approach which no one else could have opened. That at least is official Washington's hope.

In the meantime it was learned from wholly reliable sources that Henry F. Grady, U. S. ambassador to Iran, is retiring and will be succeeded in six or eight weeks by Ambassador Loy Henderson, present envoy of India. Henderson is considered to be one of the nation's best qualified career diplomats for middle eastern service.

While Harriman's assignment will have the effect of transferring American representation in connection with the oil dispute from the hands of ambassador Grady State department officials today denied rumors and speculation that the British had wanted to oust Grady because of his conduct of U. S. policies in Tehran.

Mexican River Ferry Sinks; 27 Missing

PUEBLA, Mex.—(P)— Troops searched today for the bodies of 27 persons missing since a river ferry struck a floating log and sank Tuesday.

Military authorities said the accident occurred at Tecoman, 75 miles south of here, in a district where there is no telegraph service. The ferry was crossing the flooded Mictico river. There were 15 survivors of the tragedy.

House Quiz Goes Back To 1932 Bonus March, Called Communist Idea

WASHINGTON — (P)— The House un-American activities committee called for a public airing today of a charge that the 1932 soldiers' bonus march on the nation's capital was prompted by Communists.

Chairman Woods (D-Ga.) said John T. Pace of Centerville, Tenn., a former Communist, had asked for a chance to repeat testimony he gave the group behind closed doors in 1949.

The hearing apparently stemmed from a Republican charge last month that Democrats earlier suppressed Pace's testimony because it reflected creditably on Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Communists Trying To Run The Show

MUNSAN, Korea—(P)—Korean cease-fire negotiations were broken off today on the issue of United Nations press representation at Kaesong, site of the conference.

There was no indication when talks would be resumed. Sessions scheduled for today were cancelled after Communist guards refused to let a truck load of 20 newsmen pass a check point with a U. N. convoy.

All Or Nothing

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U. N. delegate, said there would be no more cease-fire talk until the Reds agreed that "my convoy, bearing the personnel of my choosing, including such press representation as I consider necessary, will be cleared to the conference site."

Joy ordered the entire 17-vehicle convoy to turn back from the Red check point where the newsmen were halted.

The U. N. commander, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, said it was "all or nothing."

The five allied armistice negotiators did not leave Munsan Thursday for their scheduled sessions in Red-occupied Kaesong, 12 miles away.

Dispatch By Helicopter

They won't return, Joy announced, until the Reds permit the U. N. party, as selected by U. N. representatives, to proceed in fact.

Joy so informed North Korean Gen. Nam Il, head of the Communist cease-fire delegation, in a strongly worded dispatch sent to Kaesong by helicopter.

General Ridgway informed the Communists Wednesday that the "presence of a selected number of newsmen at a conference of such major importance is considered an inherent right by members of the United Nations."

At that time he said flatly they would be "an integral part of the United Nations command delegation to any and all future sessions beginning 12 Noon July."

Thursday morning the Communists replied that they would like

Pink Infiltration In Voice Of America To Be Investigated

WASHINGTON — (P)— The state department has asked for a hearing on charges that Communist sympathizers have wormed their way into its "Voice of America" staff.

The request was made of a Senate judiciary subcommittee on internal security. This group and an appropriations subcommittee heard three witnesses testify in secret session last Monday that Red sympathizers on the "Voice" staff had slanted some programs toward a Communist view. The names of the witnesses were not made public.

A state department official who sat in at the committee session said he has full confidence in methods of selecting "Voice" employees, including an FBI check.

A cash award of $100 will be paid to the owner of a winning team that sets a new world's record in either the lightweight or heavyweight contests. A special division for teams traveling 300 miles or more is added to this year's contests. Cash prizes of $100 for first place, $75 for second, $50 for third, $35 for fourth and $25 for fifth are offered for the teams travelling long distances.

U. P. Special Event

These prizes are in addition to the regular prizes offered in the open class totalling $590 for 12 places in each of the two weight classes.

Under the schedule the owner of a team travelling 300 miles or more that established a new world's record at the Upper Peninsula State Fair would receive $325, the additional $25 for setting a U. P. State Fair record.

The Upper Peninsula Special, open to teams owned in the Upper Peninsula, also will be conducted in each class again this year. Prizes totalling $190 are offered in each weight class for the U. P. Special and these awards are in addition to prize money won by U. P. teams in the open competition.

Horse Pulling Records

As in past years the contests will be conducted in front of the grandstand on the tractive dynamometer provided by Michigan State College.

The U. P. State Fair record in the heavyweight class is 3850 pounds, set by a team owned by Fowler Brothers, Reading, Mich. This team also holds the world's record of 4275 pounds.

The U. P. State Fair record in the lightweight class is 3275 pounds, set by a team owned by Charles Roehl and Son, Smith Creek, Mich. This team also holds the world's record of 3550 pounds.

Both of the U. P. State Fair records were set in 1950.

Daggett Woman Is Victim Of Polio; Now In Respirator

Mrs. Mildred Lindgren, 26, of Daggett, Menominee county, first victim of polio in the Upper Peninsula this summer, is now receiving treatment at St. Luke's hospital, Marquette, where she is in a respirator to assist her breathing.

She is the wife of Charles Lindgren. They reside west of Daggett.

Dr. William C. Harrison, Delta-Menominee health district director, said reports from St. Luke's hospital show that Mrs. Lindgren first became ill on July 3. She was taken to the hospital at Marquette on July 8, where her illness was diagnosed as polio.

Her case is the fourth to be reported in the Upper Peninsula so far this year. The first case was in Menominee county on Jan. 10, the second in Marquette county (the patient was a Rapid River girl attending Northern Michigan College of Education) on Jan. 15, and the third was a Mackinac county case Feb. 2.

Set-Gun Wounds Royal Oak Man

Oscar Virta, 37, Struck In Thigh

Oscar Virta, 37, of Royal Oak, Mich., a visitor to the Upper Peninsula, was wounded in the thigh by a set-gun and is receiving treatment today in St. Mary's hospital, Marquette, the conservation department reports.

The accident occurred about 6:30 p. m. Monday near Sundell in Alger county, and conservation officers first learned it yesterday.

John Chriske, district conservation supervisor, said Virta brushed against a fishline attached to the trigger of the set-gun near a salt lick for deer. The ball slug in the 20 gauge shot gun struck Virta in the right thigh, penetrating the flesh but not striking the bone.

With Virta at the time of the accident was his brother, Leo Virta of Sand River near Sundell. The wounded man was taken to the hospital by Leo and William Virta, his brothers.

State police and conservation officers are investigating. The use of set-guns in the woods is illegal.

Oscar Virta and his family came to Sundell for a vacation visit with his brothers.

Several pledged contributions also will be forthcoming.

Unwritten Laws Of The Road

No. 1: Three Classes Of Drivers.

This is the first of a series of 25 lessons on safe driving. Each one covers a specific practical driving situation.

The real "know-how" of accident-free driving is contained in what might be called the unwritten laws of the road. These are known to professional bus and truck drivers as "tricks-of-the-trade".

Which of the following three classifications are you in:

Amateur Drivers who are so clumsy that they actually cause accidents by the way they drive. Semi-pro Drivers who drive well enough not to cause accidents by the way they drive but not well enough to avoid being hit by amateur drivers.

Professional Drivers who are so good that they not only do not cause accidents by their method of driving but who, in addition, are sharp enough to outguess the amateur driver and not be hit by him.

Any driver learning to handle the 24 specific situations described in the rest of this series will make a good beginning on becoming a "professional driver".

Case Load Down In All Categories

Welfare expenditures in Delta county for the month of May totaled $75,722.74, compared to $91,289 for a similar period last year, according to a comparative report issued by A. M. Gilbert, director of the Delta county social welfare board.

A decline in case load from May of last year was noted in all relief classifications.

There was a total of 408 direct relief cases in May of this year (of which 193 were medical supplement cases), compared to a total of 639 cases a year ago. Direct relief cost for May was $13,364.52 compared to $29,425.07 a year ago.

Medical supplement cases are old age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to blind, and aid to disabled cases that are given medical care only for acute illness. No provision is made in federal and state grants for this purpose.

Administrative costs totaled $1,902.93 for May, slightly below a year ago. County hospitalization increased from $2,266 a year ago to $3,360 in May this year.

Direct relief is financed by state and county funds; county hospitalization and administrative wholly by county funds.

Old age assistance cases declined from 920 to 871, aid to dependent children from 212 to 208, and aid to the blind from 9 to 6. Aid to disabled, a new service, totaled five in May this year. Total cost for these classifications, financed by state and federal funds, was $57,095.20 for May of this year compared to $57,559.80 for May last year.

Lake Fisheries Group Planned

Program Outlined By Claude VerDuin

A plan is under way to organize a federation of fresh water fisheries that will bring together existing associations in eleven midwestern states in order to provide for cooperation in the attack on the lamprey and similar projects, including establishment of additional commercial fish hatcheries and artificial propagation of fish, according to Claude VerDuin, Michigan Fish Producers secretary of Grand Haven.

"Our main purpose in promulgating such an organization is to put the fishing industry in a position to cooperate in projects such as that for the elimination of the lamprey," Secretary VerDuin said.

"We believe that lamprey control, the establishment of additional hatcheries for the artificial propagation and restocking of some depleted areas, the problem of pollution which has become very serious in some sections, and the problem of marketing are all of interest to fishermen operating in fresh water regardless of what state they are in. We are trying to bring them all together."

He said the whole sea lamprey program is more or less of a joint investigation because the states and the Province of Ontario have organized sea lamprey committees to meet regularly with certain phases of the program assigned to certain states to carry out.

Century Of Mining Is Forecast By Randall In Iron River Area

GOOD news to the people of the Iron River district came in the form of a prediction by Clarence B. Randall of Chicago, president of the Inland Steel company, that iron mining will continue on the Menominee range for at least 100 years.

Randall made his prediction in a talk at the Iron River centennial celebration last week. It also can be accepted as good news here in Escanaba, where all the iron ore mined in the Menominee range is loaded into boats for shipment to lower lake ports and furnaces.

While he did not amplify his remarks, it may be assumed that Randall meant the Iron River district would be producing high grade ore for another century. Explorations are continuing to locate deposits as rich as those now being mined.

But the Menominee and other ranges in the Upper Peninsula have millions of tons of low grade ores that remain to be utilized. At the present time it is not profitable to mine these vast deposits, and richer ores are being exploited in Labrador, Venezuela and other recently explored areas.

The low grade iron ore deposits are not being overlooked, however. Cleveland Cliffs, Jones & Laughlin and other companies have in recent years increased their budgets for research laboratories and personnel. Studies looking toward the economical utilization of low grade ores are now under way on the Marquette and Menominee ranges.

Someday mining engineers and laboratory scientists will find a way to profitably extract low grade ore from the ground and convert it into iron and steel. Development of this formula will mean that iron mining and shipping will continue in the Upper Peninsula for many centuries after the higher grade ore deposits have been exhausted.

Menominee Women Hit Smoke Menace

MENOMINEE'S women folks got their dander up last Monday night and marched to the city council meeting to present their demands that something be done about the smoke nuisance.

Smoke and soot from industrial plant smokestacks smear washing on the clothes lines, infiltrate into the homes to blacken walls and ceilings, and create other nuisances, the women complained.

We can sympathize with the good women of Menominee. Clouds of smoke from railroad locomotives and even our own municipal steam plant oftentimes drift over our Ludington street business district. Much merchandise is damaged by smoke and dirt. Housewives in upstairs apartments fret because dusting and cleaning are never done.

It took the women folks to get up in arms and start an effective crusade against vice and bad government in Gary, Ind. Doubtless, they could unite here and all over America and clean up the smoke nuisance.

General Eisenhower Mystery In Politics

IS General Eisenhower a Republican or a Democrat?

This is one political mystery that has defied solution for many months. But still the popular General "Ike" is frequently mentioned as a possible presidential candidate on either major party ticket.

Some factions in both parties favor "Ike," some don't.

In fact, backers of Senator Taft are already taking steps to block his nomination for the presidency on the Republican ticket. And a Chicago Tribune syndicated story, dated July 7, inferred that Eisenhower, as president of Columbia university, is friendly with Communists.

On the other hand, Senator Duff, Republican of Pennsylvania, is reported to be going to Europe to sound out General Eisenhower for the 1952 Republican nomination.

Some Democrats would like to have Eisenhower become their standard bearer. This does not set well, of course, with those party leaders who think President Truman should seek reelection.

Anyway, General Eisenhower has the American public and politicians, alike, still guessing. He certainly knows how to keep a political secret.

Truce In Korea Not End Of Red Activity

SPEAKING at the OWAA convention here last week, both Senator Blair Moody and Gov. G. Mennen Williams warned the people against allowing the anticipated truce in the Korean fighting to lull them into a false sense of security.

Senator Moody criticized those members in Congress who let down the bars on price control and inflation, which he declared would eventually wreck the American free enterprise itself.

Governor Williams sounded the warning that America must be prepared for a struggle with Russian Communism that might continue for a generation.

Some might pooh-pooh these warnings as coming from the mouths of politicians. But Charles E. Wilson, noted industrialist, now serving his country as defense mobilization director, speaks in a similar tone. Wilson asserts America should not let its guard down as a result of the Korean peace gesture. The defense chief urges that we continue to build up our military might and also maintain strong economic controls. He added that the Congressional prohibition against rollbacks would take billions of dollars from the pockets of the American buying public.

It is well, of course, to hope and work for peace, but at the same time we must make sure to "keep our powder dry."

Building Castles

By Gordon Martin

There is nothing quite so marvelous as youth and all its dreams, and the wondrous way a growing boy can conjure up his schemes. He can be most anything he wants and none can say him no, for he lives within a rosy world without a bit of woe. And it's good that in the tender years his will is all his own, for in later life he'll come to find his independence flown.

He can be a knight in armor as he mounts his charger white, or a Robin Hood whose bow protects the people in the right. He can be a fine policeman who is blest with eagle-eye, or perhaps a great detective who would serve the F.B.I. He can be a dashing fireman in a red and shiny truck, or a cowboy who delights to have his savage bronco buck.

But as life goes on he soon finds out the youthful things he planned, have to be ignored or shoved aside for problems then at hand. He will learn to meet frustration, many disappointments too, and will know he cannot always do the things he wants to do. But among his shining treasures is a great and lasting truth—that we build our biggest castles in the car-free days of youth.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The White House was considering a plan to send Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas to Iran as special mediator, when two published items suddenly knocked these plans into a cocked hat. One item was in Winchell's column, the other an article in Life magazine.

The Winchell item read: "Personal memo to Tito of Yugoslavia, Nehru of India and other chiefs of foreign nations: When a 'Bill Douglas' (of Oregon and Washington, D. C.) calls on you soon—all courtesies extended will be appreciated by this column. Mr. Douglas will file copy exclusively to us. . . . It will be relayed to all I. N. S. clients under the byline: 'By Bill Douglas, special correspondent of the Daily Winchell.'"

This did not go down well at the White House. Nobody really believed that the supreme court justice was going to send newspaper dispatches back from India and Yugoslavia where Douglas is now traveling, through Walter Winchell. Nevertheless, Winchell is not popular around the White House, and even a remote association between him and Douglas didn't help.

On top of this, the state department learned that the shah of Iran was blazing mad over a recent article in Life magazine in which Justice Douglas portrayed Iran as a land of crooks and grafters. Though many agree with Douglas, the shah apparently doesn't. For last week an urgent cable sent to the state department warned Douglas to stay out of Iran if he valued his life.

Obviously he was not the man to mediate in Iran.

KING FAROUK'S HONEYMOON

Bulbous King Farouk of Egypt got sore and cut short his honeymoon in Sicily the other day—for a most interesting reason. He was gallivanting around with another woman—not his bride—and Italian photographers tried to take his picture.

The king's strange behavior on his honeymoon shocked even his most loyal followers. And when the Italian papers got wind of it, Farouk gave up his 24-room villa, boarded his yacht and sailed away.

The Egyptian press hinted at the escapades, and as a result the king ordered three of Cairo's biggest newspapers temporarily suppressed. Egyptian censors refused to allow any foreign reporters to cable word of this out of the country.

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

The tip that led to the suspension of Dennis DeLaney, Massachusetts' collector of internal revenue, came from Senator Kefauver of Tennessee, the crime buster. . . . Thanks to an uphill battle by former Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes and his successor, Oscar Chapman, at least one plank of the president's badly battered civil-rights program was carried out recently—the transfer of the former Jap mandated islands in the Pacific from navy to civilian control. . . .

Senator Humphrey of Minnesota has appealed to his colleagues to give up their long, summer vacations and keep congress in session 12 months a year. He made the proposal at a closed-door meeting of Democratic senators. Humphrey argued that congress is too loaded down with work to go back to the old system of six-month recesses. . . . Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois is convinced that the Communists should be forced to withdraw to the narrow neck of land 100 miles north of the 38th parallel—first, as proof the Communists lost; second, to deter new aggressions on South Korea. Douglas proposes that the area between the 38th parallel and the new line be administered by the United Nations.

SYMBOL OF FREEDOM — The Statue of Liberty is just that and the word "liberty" itself comes into the English language by way of the Latin word "liber" which means free. (National Park Photo)

World's Most Famous Lady

For 65 Years Miss Liberty Has Held Aloft Her Torch As Freedom Symbol

By Herbert Hollander

Linked indissolubly with the spirit of independence is the world famous Statue of Liberty, dedicated exactly six and one-half decades ago this year. And in July, two years prior to the dedication, the statue was presented officially by M. De Lesseps, president of the French Committee, to Levi P. Morton, the American Ambassador.

Ever since its dedication, Miss Liberty has held high her torch. To untold millions that statue has provided the thrill of thrills. The embodiment of the democratic ideal, the symbol of a land of opportunity free from oppression, the sight of Miss Liberty and her firmly upheld torch has strengthened the native in his Americanism and has given hope and inspiration to the immigrant.

That Miss Liberty is the best known statue in the world cannot be questioned. In every corner of every continent it is recognized instantly. Miss Liberty speaks a universal language.

Sculptured By Bartholdi

It was in 1872 that a group of men in France began actively to work on the plan. Among these was Frederic Auguste Bartholdi, a noted sculptor who ultimately was given the commission. More than $700,000 was raised in France by scores of cities, general councils, societies, and individuals, to have the statue sculptured and placed on the pedestal.

In the United States, $300,000 was raised by citizens to construct the foundation and the pedestal. When the collection of money here lagged, it was the New York World which began an active campaign in behalf of the fund, and through which the larger portion of the necessary sum was raised. Very early the Sculptor Bartholdi suggested tiny Bedloe Island in New York harbor as the ideal site for the statue. His suggestion was acted upon by Congress in 1877 when the island, theretofore used as a fort, was set apart for this purpose.

By 1878, work had progressed to the point where it was possible to exhibit the head of the statue at the Paris Exhibition. A forearm previously had been shown at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia in 1876.

Work was completed in 1883, and on July 4, 1884, the statue was presented officially by M. De Lesseps, president of the French Committee, to Levi P. Morton, the American Ambassador. In June, 1885, Miss Liberty was landed at New York. Later that year the cornerstone of the pedestal was laid.

The principal address on the occasion of the dedication of the statue October 28, 1886, was delivered by President Grover Cleveland. More than a million persons are said by contemporary accounts to have watched the exercises. Few, of course, could be accommodated on the island itself. The nearby New York shore, however, was a solid mass of humanity for miles.

Larger Than Colossus

Bartholdi, a great sculptor with many fine works to his credit, found in the statue an inspiration worthy of his magnificent talent. Super-heroic in size—larger even than the ancient Colossus of Rhodes—the statue is equally impressive in its perfectly expressed symbolism. With a burning torch in her right hand, and in her left holding close a book of law inscribed July 4, 1776, Liberty is represented as breaking the shackles lying at her feet and stepping forward to enlighten the world.

A bronze tablet sent with the statue from France bears the following inscription: "A Gift from the People of the Republic of France to the People of the United States. This statue of Liberty Enlightening the World Commemorates the Alliance of the Two Nations In Achieving the Independence of the United States of America and Attests Their Abiding Friendship. Auguste Bartholdi, Sculptor. Inaugurated October 28, 1886."

152 Feet High

The physical dimensions of the statue are amazing. The figure itself is 152 feet high and the tip of the torch is 300 feet above sea level. The width of the face is 10 feet and of the eyes two and a half feet, while the arm is 40 feet long and 12 feet in diameter at the widest point. The tablet in the left hand is more than 23 feet long and two feet thick. Forty persons can stand in the head of the figure and twelve in the torch. The jeweled lights of the crown are found to be windows in an observation platform.

The figure itself weighs about 450,000 pounds. It is made of hammered copper three thirty-seconds of an inch thick, supported on a steel frame anchored in the pedestal. The green color is the result of verdigris.

For the past thirty-five years Bartholdi's original desire has been carried out in the floodlighting of the statue by night.

Every now and then one hears

So They Say

We shall blunder and dispute, and decide and overrule decisions. And the common sense of the American people will preserve us from the extremes which would destroy our heritage.—Robert H. Jackson, Supreme Court associate justice.

Any woman would trade her face for (Greta) Garbo's.—Janice Rule, movie actress chosen as one of Hollywood's 10 top beauties.

rumors that the Statue of Liberty is disintegrating. This, one is authoritatively informed, is untrue.

The statue is under Federal jurisdiction, and was declared a national monument in 1924. It is administered by the National Park Service. An ever increasing number of persons visit Bedloe Island each year.

The international significance of the Statue of Liberty is reflected to an interesting extent in the island on which it stands, having flown the Dutch as well as the English flags. It receives its name from Isaac Bedloe, who was given a patent to it in the seventeenth century. It later came into the hands of the City of New York, and then the State of New York was given jurisdiction over it. In 1800 the island was ceded to the Federal Government.

The high granite bastion surrounding the base of the Statue of Liberty is the wall of old Fort Wood, which was used as part of the defenses of New York City from 1811 to 1877. The star-shaped fort wall was retained as a part of the foundation for the pedestal.

Identified With "Home"

The Statue of Liberty occupies a unique place in the hearts of all Americans. Only those who have waved farewell to it on departing through the great New York harbor, and who have greeted it upon their return, can realize fully how Miss Liberty is identified with "home."

But if the feeling of Americans for this statue is great, that feeling has been matched by millions of immigrants who have waited eagerly for a glimpse of the torch which to them meant the fulfillment of a cherished dream.

There is no more moving sight to watch than these Americans-to-be as the steamer nears the statue. Men, women and children crowd to the rail. Many of the older people weep for joy, unashamed. The children greet it with shouts of glee, seeing with their own eyes, and but a stone's throw away, a statue which they have known only from pictures.

In size, in execution, in location the Statue of Liberty is perfect. Even the island itself is proportioned as it is made for just this single purpose.

Whether one sees the statue once or ten thousand times, it is unfailingly beautiful. By night and by day, in bright sunshine or enshrouded in the heavy fogs which descend upon the harbor, the presence of Miss Liberty, with her torch aloft, is inspiring and soul-giving.

It seems particularly fitting that emphasis should be placed upon this anniversary in the career of the Statue of Liberty. In a world in which it seems individual liberty is being fettered on every hand, America proclaims its own abiding faith in democratic ideals.

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE SNEEZE WEED—An amateur gardener, showing us his flower beds, pointed out one plant that seemed to be flourishing above all the rest.

"It sort of volunteered," he admitted doubtfully. "I didn't know what it was, so I just left it until it blooms."

That plant was a particularly healthy specimen of the annual ragweed, a pest if nature ever produced one. For the pollen from the spire-like blossoms of the ragweed lifts into the air and is blown everywhere, causing one of the most disagreeable afflictions known to man—hayfever.

Informed of the character of his unknown plant, the gardener promptly pulled it out by the roots. There were many more of the same along the fence-row at the alley.

"I'm glad you told me," he said. "My wife's folks are coming up to get away from the ragweed in Illinois. I'd hate to be growing it in my garden!"

FINDING RELIEF—The Michigan department of health, after conducting ragweed pollen count tests for a ten-year period, reports that hayfever sufferers can find relief in most of the Upper Peninsula and the northern third of the Lower Peninsula.

"Persons susceptible to ragweed hayfever usually show symptoms when the ragweed pollen count reaches 100 grains per cubic yard of air in a 24-hour period," reports the state health department.

"A few are affected by lesser concentrations," it adds.

Few or many, concentrations high or low—this is of little consequence to the individual suffering the pangs of hayfever. His immediate interest is in the intolerable effect rather than the cause.

HOW WE RATE—It will interest the hayfever victim to know how the various sections of Michigan rate as places to find relief from the pollen plague.

The best places in Michigan to escape watery eyes, wracking sneezes and runny noses—say health department statisticians—are the following:

Sault Ste. Marie, St. Ignace, Ontonagon, Munising, Isle Royale, Newberry, Houghton, Marquette. (All have records of pollen count showing less than an average of 5 days per season when the pollen count went to 100).

Rating second place in our own unofficial listing are Escanaba, Eagle Harbor, Crystal Falls, Ironwood, Manistique and Watersmeet, all with six or seven days average when the pollen count went to 100.

Upper Peninsula places with higher pollen counts, as reported by the state health department, are Powers (count of 100 on 10 days), and Menominee with a count of 100, on 13 days.

JUST BEGINNING—In Michigan ragweed begins to pollinate about mid-July but it is not until mid-August that the concentration reaches 100 grains per cubic yard of air per day in any part of the state.

"Ten years experience has shown that there is little or no change in the relative distribution of ragweed pollen in Michigan from year to year," reports the health department.

"But it should be remembered that pollen concentrations vary locally with land and water masses, degree of cultivation of the soil, and elevation, and that they are influenced from day to day by wind, rain and sunshine."

AND STILL GROWING—Noteworthy—at least in our opinion—is the department's comment that the degree of soil cultivation is a factor in variations in pollen count.

Forested areas leave no growing room for ragweed. As nature's skin is broken by the plow the ragweed whirls its infecting seed into the wind. Old farmsteads, long abandoned, still sprout their crop of the weed.

As new lands are put in cultivation the ragweed spreads slowly across the length and breadth of the Upper Peninsula. The opening of roadways provides a growing place on roadsides and plenty of pollen for the noses of the tourists.

Ragweed control? Just about impossible—and who wants to suggest a new program for a government agency.

PRONUNCIATION CLINIC

A Check List of Frequently Mispronounced Words

Watch the word status. The pronunciation in best usage prefers the long "a" (ay) sound, thus: STAY-tuss.

Government: GUV-ern-m'nt. Though "GUV-er-m'nt" and "GUV-uh-m'nt" are commonly heard, even among statesmen and government officials, the pronunciations are considered slovenly.

The mispronunciation "miss-Chee-vee-us" is heard so frequently that it is not uncommon to see the word spelled as "mischievous." But the last syllable is "v-o-u-s" not "v-i-o-u-s." Better say: MISS-chuh-vus.

The first syllable of the word finis rhymes with "my, by." The word means "end, conclusion," and because finis is so closely associated with the word "finish," the mispronunciation "FIN-iss" is often heard. Avoid it. Correct: FY-niss.

"He is in the VET-runs' hospital." No. Be sure to give the word three syllables, thus: VET-er-un.

A similar word which is erroneously telescoped far too often is veterinarian. Sound all six syllables, as: VET-er-uh-NEER-ee-un.

It is not infrequent to hear bronchial pronounced as "BRON-i-k'l," even among doctors and nurses. Don't say it. Correct: BRONG-kee-ul.

Another word customarily mispronounced because of a transposition in sounds is larynx. Avoid "LAHR-nix." The last syllable is "y-nx," not "nyx." Correct: LAIR-inks.

Peace Prospects On Korean Front Far From Bright

all, reestablishment of the conditions existing just before the war started (the division of Korea) and withdrawal of all "foreign troops."

These specific points are all the subject of negotiation, or will have to be negotiated. It has been understood that the United Nations side has had in mind a buffer line north of the parallel. Furthermore there is no intention to withdraw all "foreign troops" and leave South Korea open to another attempt at conquest.

But the significance of the Red statement is not so much in the specific issues as in the general implication that the Reds are trying by publicity to bring into the negotiations pressures which may in the end wreck the talks.

There appears to have been some difference of opinion in the government here over what to do about the Communist propaganda. One view is that this propaganda line is not of primary importance, that if peace comes to Korea the world generally will know why and if it does not come the world will place the blame where it belongs.

Another view is that the Reds may convince some of the poorly informed peoples of the world that they have won a military victory in Korea and that the U. N. forces have been compelled to back down.

One Ace In Hole
It is understood a decision has been made to ridicule the Red claim of a virtual Communist victory in Korea but otherwise not to pay too much attention and to depend on the final truce terms—if they are actually negotiated—to prove the nature of the settlement.

The state department's "Voice of America" said yesterday Stalin was trying to make a "propaganda holiday" out of the armistice talks.

But then the "voice" asked Stalin: "What are you going to do with the one real fact everyone knows—that Malik had to cry 'enough' for both the Chinese volunteers and the North Koreans, because they were too busy dying under the withering fire power of the United Nations army to cry for themselves?"

The "voice" also told Stalin to remember that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the U. N. commander, holds "the one ace in the hole: a victorious army in battle array with tremendous firepower, command of the skies above North Korea, and a navy with ships on both flanks."

In 1847, you could get a square meal for 6 cents and a week's board for $1 in rural Maine.

Detroit Police Free Singer Sarah Vaughan, Nabbed In Blind Pig

DETROIT (AP)—Sarah Vaughan, widely known jazz singer, and Buddy Young, former University of Illinois football star, were released by police yesterday along with 20 other persons seized in a blind pig raid.

Police admitted they had no court case because they broke into a rambling old mansion at 61 Orchestra Place without a search warrant. Police called the mansion a blind pig—a place that sells liquor illegally—and said it was the third raid on the establishment since last August.

Police said the operator, Fred Guinyard, 36, twice has been fined for engaging in an illegal operation.

Miss Vaughan, who plays some of the top spots in the nation, took her brief stay at police headquarters philosophically.

"It was just an ordinary party," she told police. She said she had come here from her home in New York City for the all-star baseball game with her husband, George Treadwell. He was at a hotel at the time of the party.

Young plays in the backfield for the New York Yankees pro football team. He is a musician in the off-season.

Four Burn To Death As Truck Rams Car

BRIDGEPORT, N. J. (AP)—Four members of a Rhode Island family, two of them small children, burned to death last night in their car which had been rammed by a truck and set afire by explosion of a gasoline tank.

A 15-year-old girl, fifth passenger in the automobile, was thrown clear of the blazing wreckage, but suffered serious burns.

The crash occurred at the entrance to the Bridgeport-Chester, Pa., ferry. Flames shooting upward 30 feet as a spare gasoline tank on the big tractor-trailer exploded, trapping the four victims.

In Underwood hospital, Woodbury, N. J., June McBride, of Hopkinton, Mass., told authorities those killed were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Karch and their daughters, Deborah, 5, and Susan, 3, of East Greenwich, R. I.

Federal Pay Slashes Erased In Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some sizeable federal payroll cuts voted by the House and Senate have been erased by a Senate-House conference committee.

The action came in final committee agreement yesterday on the labor-federal security appropriations bill. The revised measure now goes back to both houses.

The Senate had voted to cut all payroll funds ten per cent. The House had voted to trim the agencies' manpower by allowing them to fill only one of every four vacancies occurring during the year.

The conference committee threw out both provisions. It then agreed on a ten per cent payroll cut in some offices, a smaller cut in others, and in some instances no cut at all.

CHARLOTTE, Mich. (AP)—Directed by an airplane, state police and sheriff's officers yesterday found a 58-year-old widow who had wandered away from her home in Kalama township. She was suffering from shock and exposure.

Sheriff Everett Peck said the woman, Mrs. Lena Harris, had been mentally ill since the death of her husband. She was found in a field a quarter of a mile from her home about two hours after she was reported missing.

Deputy Sheriff Sherman Bever went up in a plane to direct the search.

Allies Break Off Negotiations As Reds Bar Newsmen

to have press representatives—but not yet. The convoy, including newsmen, already was on its way.

Don't Take Dictation
When armed Red guards insisted, politely but firmly, on cutting the newsmen out of the convoy all vehicles were ordered back and talks were broken off.

The general impression here was that the break was temporary. The opinion among many military men and some correspondents was that the whole situation was the result of a Communist misunderstanding, although delegates have been arguing over press representation since talks started Tuesday.

There was a feeling that talks might be resumed later in the week.

Admiral Joy's message to General Nam made it clear the U. N. is ready to go on with the ceasefire talks, but insists on deciding for itself who shall be in the Allied party.

General Surprised
His message, dispatched immediately after the convoy returned, read:

"Subject: Termination or recess of conference.
"To: General Nam H. North Korean Army.

"1. At 0930 12 July 1951 (6:30 p. m., EST Wednesday) my motor convoy, proceeding along the Munsan-Kaesong road, bearing personnel desired by me at the conference site, was refused passage to pass your control post by your armed guards.

"2. I have ordered this convoy to return to the United Nations lines.

"3. I am prepared to return with my delegation and continue the discussions which were recessed yesterday upon notification from you that my convoy, bearing the personnel of my choosing, including such press representation as I consider necessary, will be cleared to the conference site."

General Ridgway, Admiral Joy and Lt. Gen. Sir Horace Robertson, Commander of British Commonwealth troops in Korea, spent three hours in conference after the convoy was halted.

There was no explanation of Robertson's presence.

At the time Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, whose powerful U. S. Eighth army holds lines running 20 and 30 miles into Red Korea, was aboard the U. S. Flagship Eldorado off the west coast. He appeared surprised to learn that peace talks had been interrupted.

But Van Fleet declined comment. He said, "that's their business."

Thursday's developments brought to a head a request originally made by Admiral Joy Tuesday that 20 Allied press representatives be allowed in Kaesong but not in the conference room itself.

An army announcement said General Nam at first accepted this but later reversed himself on instructions from the top Red command.

Snead Seeks More Cash In Western

DAVENPORT, Ia. (AP)—Sam Snead started out after more cash and glory today in the Western Open tournament. He sought his third straight Western championship.

If Snead is the top man at the end of the 72-hole test late Sunday afternoon he'll pick up a $2,500 check and be the second golfer to win three consecutive Western titles. Ralph Guldahl of Chicago was the first.

Sam doesn't think the field of 96 professionals and 39 amateurs will "tear the course up."

Neither does Ed Furgol. The young man from Royal Oak, Mich., said it is the kind of a course that "keeps you wide awake or you'll jump into a double-boogie any hole."

Furgol listed Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, Jim Ferrier and Dr. Cary Middlecoff as his title favorites.

Yanks Want Cadillac, Indians Accommodate

CLEVELAND (AP)—Somebody asked Manager Casey Stengel the other day why his New York Yankee relief pitchers refused to ride in the Cleveland Indians' jeep from the bull pen to the mound.

"They're accustomed to riding in Cadillacs," replied Casey.

Tonight, the Indians will have a Cadillac convertible standing by to haul in any Yankee relievers. The Yanks may use it for the three-game series.

Hungarian-Americans Heckle Soviet U. N. Envoys In New York

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—New York City police today investigated complaints of "Hooliganism" outside the Park Avenue headquarters of the Russian delegation to the United Nations.

Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik wrote U. S. delegate Warren R. Austin July 3 saying about 20 persons demonstrated there June 30. He said they shouted hostile remarks, scratched delegation limousines and accosted persons entering the building.

Acting Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin wrote Austin this week that a group of 60 to 80 persons repeated the demonstration last Saturday.

Both complaints said police failed to interfere.

Dr. Kalman Molnar said both demonstrations were staged by the Hungarian-American foundation, of which he is district president, to call public attention to mass arrests in Communist Hungary.

He said the group shouted "the rope for Stalin" and "stop the deportations," booed Russians entering the building, but did not scratch cars or accost any of the Soviet staff.

Austin handed the complaints over to the police for investigation.

Top Generals Downed At Selfridge Field By Plane Oil Leak

MT. CLEMENS (AP)—A C-97 plane carrying three generals and other officers made a precautionary landing at Selfridge Field yesterday. An oil leak had crippled one of the engines about 100 miles from Detroit.

Aboard were Lt. Gen. Curtis Le May, in charge of the Strategic Air Command; Gen. Carl Spaatz, retired chief of staff of the Air Force, and Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, retired; former commander of the 8th Air Force.

The plane was en route from Goose Bay, Labrador, to Omaha, Neb. The generals were returning from England where they attended ceremonies honoring American war dead.

The generals had lunch with Selfridge officers before taking off for Omaha in another plane.

Pay Increase Asked For Federal Workers; 2 Million Affected

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman today asked Congress for a seven percent pay increase for government workers, and a Senate committee approved increases the members said that would average 8.4 percent.

About 2,000,000 government workers would be affected—500,000 in the postal service and 1,500,000 classified civil service workers.

The president proposed a seven per cent "across the board" increase—meaning the same percentage increase for all workers irrespective of their present pay.

The Senate committee plan, however, would not give all workers the same percentage increases.

Members of the group told reporters their plan would cost about $500,000,000 a year. The boost would average about 8.4 per cent for classified civil service workers up to a maximum raise of $800 a year.

The post office boost would be 8.8 per cent in addition to certain grade adjustments with an $800 maximum.

Storm Damage

The wind and electric storms of early Sunday morning, reminiscent of the Armistice Day storm of 1940, when the Sinaloa was wrecked off Sack Bay, pushed the bay water like a tidal wave through the Wolverine Fish Com-

Voters received two ballots at Monday's election, one giving authority to the board to sell to the highest bidder the kindergarten school and the other presenting the names of two incumbent members, Walter Stellwagen and Dighton Tatrow. Of the 54 votes cast two ballots were spoiled and several others partially so because the name of J. J. King had been written in and the necessary X omitted. Results were Tatrow, 40 votes, Stellwagen, 26 and King 20. Serving on the board were Mrs. Ossie Hazen, chairman, Mrs. Walter Stellwagen, inspector and Mrs. Leroy Winter and Harold Goff, clerks.

Everything about summer points up a girl's femininity. Trees seem to have been grown especially for romantic picnics. Sunshine, seashore and blue skies transform even city girls into mermaids for a day. The magic of organdy net, crinoline, ruffles and peek-a-boo petticoats can convert even the jeans-fan into a lady for an evening.

But summer isn't all hearts and flowers. Weary girls must work to keep pretty in the summertime, even though it is worth it. Sun and salt water combine to cause painful sunburn, if we aren't careful. Hungry mosquitoes and flies will take a few little bites here and there unless we are properly covered. And what girl hasn't been felled by poison ivy while on a super deluxe outing?

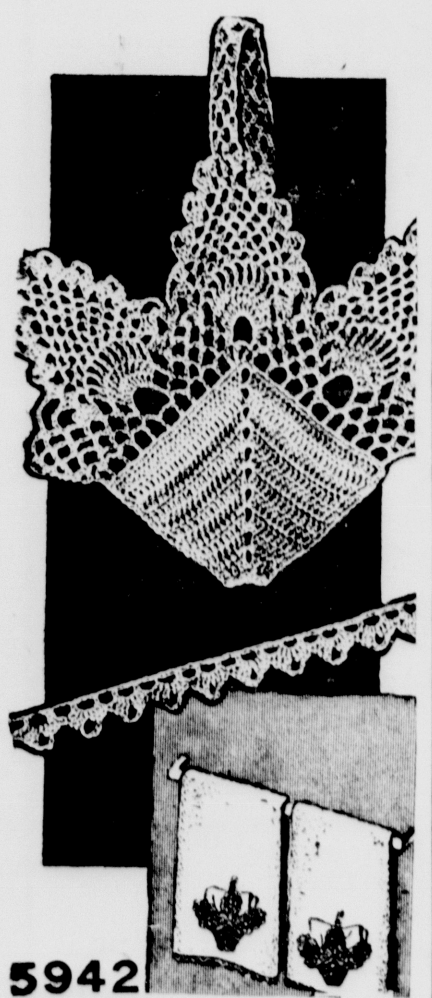

Most of us do not enjoy wearing that extra-long shirt that covers the arms or long slacks, especially if we look better in a T-shirt and shorts. But it is better than paying the piper later because we stumbled onto poison sumac or into a nest of mosquitoes.

Every time we get out into the sun, we should wear a head covering that will keep direct sunlight from drying our hair. The shampoo is almost a daily job during the summer, and skin should be slathered with lots of creamy lotion to keep it from getting overly dry.

Let a complete grooming job be part of your weekly beauty routine. Legs should be depilated the razor or cream depilatory and toenails pedicured. You can't skip around barelegged and wearing sandals unless you are willing to keep your legs and feet well-groomed.

If you haven't been out in the sun and want to go barelegged, use cake makeup or tinted lotion to give your legs a suntanned hue until you develop a tan. Apply the cosmetic with little cotton squares as sometimes sponges or rubber disks, normally used for this purpose, get sour in warm weather and clog the pores. If fresh cotton is used each time, makeup should go on smoothly. Dampen the cotton first in water, pressing out extra moisture. Then pour a small amount of lotion on a square and apply. When applying lotion or cake tint to the legs, start from the toes and use long, even strokes for a smooth effect. Put newspapers on the floor to soak up the lotion drip so it does not stain tiles or towels.

Most young girls like youthful easy-to-care-for hairdos. It is so nice to be able to run your comb through your hair after a swim and have your tresses fall into graceful waves. Even if hair hangs straight, it can be becom-

Young Sheers For Junior Budget

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—(NEA)—During the summer, the problem of dressing on a junior budget goes on just as it does during the school year. In the case of a junior who's finished school and is on her first job, there's still the same old problem. Salaries on a first job are not notably high. And the junior on a job feels keenly the need to keep up with fashion. This summer, the girl who invests in at least one bemberg sheer will find the strain on her budget eased. For dresses in this fabric are cool, often can be purchased for pin money. A great many designers work in bemberg, which means a wide range of styles.

A sheath dress in bemberg (left) retails for under $11. It's washable. It has a small, detachable ruffled edge in self-pleating. In pastel prints, it has a medium U-neck and a straight skirt that falls into soft, unpressed pleats. Altogether, it's a good bet for any youthful wardrobe.

Another bemberg sheer (right), this one costing about $9, is in white, pin-dotted with color. A tiny stand-up collar is ruffled and tied in ribbon matched to the color of the dots. More ribbon encircles the waist, making a narrow sash. Sleeves are brief and ruffled. The skirt inclines to fullness but creates a slender look.

Makeup is made to order for young moderns this year. You can achieve a nice petal pink complexion with lovely pink lipsticks ranging from the pale, pale pinks to the deep geranium shades. These are bright and gay with just enough blue in them to blend with summer clothes. Red-headed beauties will find yummy tangerine makeup which looks as if it had been made to order for youthful skins.

No matter what older sister does, try to keep to the natural looking pink or peach bloom look this summer. When selecting playclothes, leave the sophisticated styles to older girls. Strapless bathing suits are feminine and flattering—providing they fit. The no-strap suit is prettier on most girls than the two piece suit which usually does not give as pretty a line to a young figure.

Petticoats Are Back In Fashion Picture For Fall

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor
NEW YORK — (AP)—The rustling, flirtatious petticoats of grandmother's day are with us again.

Designer Jane Derby, noted for her elegance and conservative good taste, is showing full-skirted suits for fall, accompanied by petticoats not only befrilled and stiffened with horsehair hems but also quilted.

A sensation of her collection, shown today to the visiting fashion press, is a suit of mauve tweed with plum velvet collar and cuffs. The skirt flares like a morning glory at the bottom and there is petticoat of plum-colored quilted satin, peeking out. Startling after a year of straight-line, skin-tight skirts, the new silhouette may make girls study up on how to swish a petticoat and flirt a fan in a return to feminine arts and graces.

Also in today's fashion lineup was Christian Dior, the Parisian credited with fathering the "New Look" of several years ago. Dior now appears to prefer the pared-down look, showing suits with

Soldier Tells Of Korean War

Pfc. Kennedy Talks To Lions, Rotarians

The improvising American soldier had not been in combat with the Chinese long before he developed a counter punch for the famed bugle blowing attack.

To offset the fury of noise caused by the Chinese bugles, always the herald of an attack, the inventive Americans collected police whistles and hand-turned sirens. When the first bugle blower ran into this bedlam of shrieks and wails from the American lines they must have believed ancient demons had returned to the Korean hills.

This and other incidents of the Korean war were told to members of the Manistique Rotary club Monday night and the Lions club Tuesday night by Pfc. Thomas Kennedy, who recently returned to Manistique on furlough after spending about 10 months in Korea.

Chinese Good Fighters

Pfc. Kennedy said the Chinese were good soldiers and were well trained. They are far superior to the North Koreans who are mainly farmers with little military training, he said.

He labeled the Russian equipment being used by Chinese and North Koreans as being greatly inferior to American. "It's as good as ours for a brief period but it soon goes to pieces because it is made of inferior material", he said.

Although Korea has one of the world's oldest civilizations, he said, the only thing modern in the country has been provided by the Japanese and Americans. During the period of Japanese occupation modern railroads, roads and factories were built, and later the Americans continued this modernizing trend; elsewhere, however, living conditions have changed little in thousands of years, he stated.

The speaker also described the Korean climate which he said was bitterly cold in winter and extremely hot in summer. Between the hot and cold season, he declared, monsoons rip and buffet the land.

Praises Medics

In concluding his remarks, Pfc. Kennedy paid tribute to the medics in Korea and stressed the importance of blood plasma to the soldiers at the front.

"Without blood plasma from home, many a wounded G. I. would never have recovered to see his home and his folks again", he said. "I'm going to the clinic Monday and give my pint of blood, and I urge everyone whose health permits it to do the same."

Reginald Christensen, of Manistique, who is an employee of the state department, urged service club members to be alert against the deadly Red menace from within.

All the Communists are not in Washington or the big cities, he said; the Upper Peninsula has more than its share and their dedicated purpose in life is to destroy the United States of America.

Concluding event on the Lions program was the showing of two reels of the film, "In Our Hands," by Donald Ott, of the Inland Lime and Stone company. The film details the story of the free enterprise system. The rest of the film series will be shown at the next Lions meeting.

Soldier From Here Directs Building Of Mess Hall In Korea

When the 536th engineer maintenance company ate their first meal in their new mess kitchen in Korea recently, Cpl. Frank Barber, 24, formerly of Gould City and Manistique, looked on with justifiable pride.

The new kitchen was entirely constructed under the supervision of Cpl. Barber, with the work being done by Korean labor. The building was a double tropical quonset with an L-shaped addition for the kitchen and storage room.

Cpl. Barber, before entering service three years ago, resided here with Mr. and Mrs. William Brockman, 159 North Maple avenue. He is a cousin of Mrs. Brockman. Before coming to Manistique he lived for several years in Gould City. He has been in Korea 11 months.

Fred Williams Reviews History Of Electric Service In Manistique

Fred Williams, manager of the Edison Sault Electric company's newly acquired Manistique property, recalled in an interview today the development of the electric industry in Manistique since its inception in 1895.

Williams, veteran employee of the Manistique Light and Power company, Edison Sault's predecessor, has rolled up a total of 49 years of service with the utility.

"Our first power plant in Manistique dates back to 1895", said Williams. "It was a steam generated plant, located in the present alley back of the Eat Shop. James McAllister, owner, was also chief electrician of the plant."

35 to 50 Customers

"The original utility was appropriately named The Manistique Light company, for of course, 'Williams explained, the only electric service in use at that time was lighting. Even that was very limited', he continued, 'being available only from sunset to sunrise; street lights were turned off at midnight each night, and the distribution system extended to a mere three blocks of the main business district. I think there were somewhere between 35 and 50 customers—in fact', he added, 'neither the Chicago Lumber company nor the Weston Lumber company would consider taking service until 1900—they considered electric lighting too dangerous.'"

The now seemingly meager 25 KW of this plant was, therefore, adequate for all the electric needs of the city at that time. It operated at 133 cycles and provided single-phase service. The personnel consisted of two persons only—James McAllister, chief electrician and owner, and Dan Guinan, engineer and operator.

"The lamps used for residential and commercial lighting back in those days were measured by candle power", said Williams, "and were procurable in three sizes: 8, 16 and 32 candle-power. I should think", he added, "the

Third Power Plant

"In 1914", continued Williams, "another new power plant was built on North Weston avenue on the site of the Weston Lumber company's water mill. This third power house was constructed of concrete blocks, the first building of this type to use such material. Goro sold shares of stock to carry out the project. One old generator was moved from the Cedar street plant which, with a new 250 KW generator, brought the total capacity of this new plant to 300 KW. This same year the company name was changed to Manistique Light and Power company."

"Up to this time, service was available only from sunset to sunrise, but in 1904 it became available on a continuous 24-hour schedule.

"About 1908 the tungsten lamp was introduced, and although it sold for $1 it was enthusiastically received because of its increased efficiency over the old carbon filament lamp.

"In 1916 Gero sold the property to the Minneapolis Tribune. The business of the company was increasing to such an extent that two more men were hired, and my work changed somewhat. I read meters, did house wiring, some line work, and still operated the plant on occasions when the night operator took time off", Williams said. "In 1918 J. G. Roberts, superintendent, resigned and I was appointed to his position."

"The concrete power house built by Gero in 1904 has since been torn down, but remnants of it still exist—if you go out to the site you can see its foundations in the river.

Power From Sault

"Due to the increased use of electricity by customers and the expansion of the paper company in the ensuing 15 years, it became necessary to seek other sources of power. Arrangements were made with the Edison Sault Electric company, and a high line from the Sault to Manistique was built in 1931. Service from this source became available in 1932."

"The Manistique Light and Power company has extended its facilities at various times," Williams said. "In 1916 service was extended to Stony Cut hill in lower Hiawatha township; in 1921, to Indian Lake, Harrison Beach area; and again in 1937 an extension from Stony Cut hill to upper Hiawatha was built. Thus the company owns about 32 miles of rural and resort lines, 16 miles in each half of Hiawatha township."

"In 1943 the local utility was acquired by the Mead Corporation and was operated by that company until June 27, 1951, when Edison Sault purchased the property."

Blood Donors Being Sought

Ask Cooperation In Plasma Program

A center for the collection of blood for the plasma program of the Michigan Department of Health is being established in Rapid River at the high school on Friday at which time Gladstone and Rapid River residents and those from the surrounding area may contribute.

Times set are from 11 to 2 and from 4 to 7.

If you are over 21 and less than 60 you are a potential giver of life-saving blood.

After registering and reporting at the center, the health of each registrant is carefully checked. Doctor and nurses take your temperature and pulse and blood pressure and ask a number of questions. This takes no more than ten minutes.

Giving the pint of blood requires only about 15 minutes after which you rest and take refreshments.

The whole process takes not more than 30 minutes and the blood contributed may be the means of saving a life.

As a matter of fact it may be the means of saving a donor's life for each who gives blood later receives a card from the health department which shows the type of blood of the donor which would be of great value should that person need an emergency transfusion.

A number of registration cards are available at the Daily Press office or donors may register at the Rapid River high school on Friday.

Driver Ticketed After Collision

Robert Godfrey, 28, of 313 Wisconsin avenue, was ticketed by Michigan State Police for failure to have his auto under control, following an accident Tuesday evening at the intersection of Days River Road and US-2 in which his auto struck another driven by John D. Webber of Trenary.

Both autos were traveling northward and Godfrey struck the Weber car as the latter slowed to turn in on the Days River Road.

The specific charge was "failure to stop within the assured clear distance."

Urge Birling Be Part Of Recreation Program

City fathers are to be contacted and the request made that the teaching of log rolling be included as part of the city recreation program and that skilled birlers be engaged to teach the sport, it was decided at a regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors Tuesday evening at the city hall.

The purpose would be to prepare young birlers for future log rolling tournaments to be held in Gladstone.

It is possible that a log rolling exhibition will be put on Good Neighbors Day on August 4.

Among other suggestions for the day was that a number of small prizes instead of one large one be awarded, personal registration be a requirement and also that the winner of a prize must be present to qualify for receiving it.

Rex Stowe sr., and H. J. Skogquist are co-chairman of the event.

The directors moved to contact the board of education to request improvement of the Buckeye school grounds. Lawn on the north side of the building, landscaping of the area will be suggested as well as placing the playground to the south of the building.

The recent role was discussed in favorable light and George Mathison commended for putting it on "nearly single-handedly".

A sum of $270 left over from the role is to be turned over to the sponsors of Good Neighbors Day for use at that time.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

The labor unions of Escanaba are backing a movement to help finance an all-star Little League baseball team in a state-wide tournament held each summer for young fry in the sport . . . The project brings to mind the old adage, "A man stands straightest when he stoops to help a child" . . . It's certainly a generous move and one that deserves recognition from all sports fans and parents.

The Little League program was inaugurated here this year . . . It is made possible by sponsorship of a number of civic organizations . . . Players and managers alike have one common goal—they want to put out a good baseball team . . . Race, religion, economic or social position are not factors involved in Little League baseball . . . If a kid can pitch, hit or field he is welcomed with open arms in the program.

Locally, over 35 adults have assisted in the program in one way or another . . . Interest has been keen and competition strong in the league . . . But good sportsmanship and fair play have been by-words in the new sport . . . Fans were impressed the other night when Umpire Gus Maycunich held up the game between the Lions and Kiwanis while he explained an infraction of the rules to a youthful Little League coach . . . Not only are rules carried out to the nth degree, they are fully explained and justified whenever the occasion arises.

The program is a good one and is well handled by its administrators . . . There are over 2,000 Little League teams in action throughout the nation . . . Besides the local league, however, there are only two other sanctioned circuits in Michigan, at Midland and Birmingham . . . We can think of no finer reward for the all-stars of this league than a trip to one of the state tournaments.

Rain and a couple of protests have slowed activity in the league here, but first half play should be completed soon . . . We'll publish standings and results as soon as they are available.

Packers In High Gear With Star Billy Grimes In Camp

GREEN BAY—With powerful running halfback Billy Grimes in the fold, the Green Bay Packers made semi-final preparations today for their 33rd campaign in the National Football league.

Head Coach Gene Ronzani and members of his staff have been huddling for nearly a month on details of strategy for 1951. In just a bit over two weeks, they'll launch intensive workouts for some fifty athletes at Grand Rapids, Minn., in preparation for the non-conference opener against Curly Lambeau's Chicago Cardinals at City stadium here August 25.

Ronzani already has announced 30 players as signed for 1951 activity. He'll add some twenty more before taking off for Grand Rapids.

Add New Coach

The coaching staff, busy in the Packers' inner sanctum (the Green room under the club's offices), has one new face—Ray McLean, the former Chicago Bear halfback McLean is replacing Ray Nolting another ex-Bear back who resigned last January. Hold-over coaches are Tarz Taylor, the line mentor, and Dick Plasman, who handles the ends and defense.

Ronzani, starting his second season, faces a different type of tremendous task. A year ago, the young strategist stepped into the post held by Lambeau for 31 years with a new system and just about everything. This season, Ronzani already has been handicapped more than any other NFL coach by loss of players to Uncle Sam. Eaten up by the armed services are such stalwarts as line-backers Clayton Tommemaker and Bob Forte, pass defender Wahy

Dreyer, halfback Larry Coutre and guard Len Szafaryn.

Gain Not Signed

In addition, Al Baldwin, a potential Tom Fears as a pass receiver, may transfer to the Canadian, league. Also on the dark side, big Bob Cain, the Packers' No. 1 draft choice, is still unsigned. Gain was an All-American tackle at Kentucky and is considered quite a linebacker—possibly a replacement for Tommemaker.

Though his losses are many, Ronzani is quietly lining up a potent group. The sophomore coach has a flock of big, tough linemen led by Captain Dick Wildung and a "new" fullback in Flying Jack Cloud who underwent an operation to correct an ailing knee last winter. Tony Canadeo, who worked at full last year, will move to left half—the position at which he gained over 1,000 yards in 1949. Tony will be working with Breezy Reid who proved his worst last fall as a rookie.

Mann Is Back

With Baldwin still a question mark, the Packers' No. 1 pass catching threat will be Bob Mann, that swift man from Michigan and Detroit. Mann will be playing his first full season in Packer silks, having joined the club only for the last three tests last fall.

The Packer business office is getting ready for the statewide season ticket sale on July 31 and August 1. The campaign is designed to sell out City stadium and increase the number of season ticket holders for games in Milwaukee.

Chiming in with the season ticket sale will be the arrival of the athletes here prior to shoving off for Grand Rapids. Committees will be working throughout the State on the drive.

Miss Colby Of Soo Advances

Women's State Golf Tourney Nears End

DETROIT—(P)—It looked today as if an up-state player would win the Women's State Golf championship for the first time since Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee won it in 1948.

The sensation of the 1951 tournament is 19-year-old Vonnice Colby of Sault Ste. Marie.

Miss Colby advanced to today's 18-hole semi-finals by defeating the defending champion, Pat Devany of Grosse Ile, one up, in yesterday's quarterfinal round at Franklin Hills.

The Soo whiz will take on Rylma Strevell of Detroit, who beat Mrs. C. B. Tuttle of Detroit, 2 and 1.

In the other semi-final, Mrs. C. Wilson of Ann Arbor will play Mrs. C. E. Stricker of Detroit. Mrs. Wilson defeated Mrs. Irene Bretzlaff, one up, and Mrs. Stricker defeated Clara Jane Mosack, 2 and 1.

Had Trouble
In defeating Miss Devany yesterday Miss Colby didn't have the same torrid game she showed in shooting a 74 in Tuesday's first round play. She skidded 10 strokes higher with a six-over-par 84 against Miss Devany. But it was enough to win, especially since Miss Devany had putter trouble.

The match was even for the first 13 holes, each winning two holes. Miss Colby went ahead on the 14th green where Miss Devany used up three of her 36 putts. Miss Devany rallied to win the 15th and 16th, to go one up with two to play. Then Miss Colby staged her winning drive. She shot 4-4 against women's par of 5-5 and won the last two holes.

Miss Devany missed a five-foot putt at the 17th and caught a fatal trap at the 18th.

Majors Return To Business Today After All-Star Play

By JOHN CHANDLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Major league baseball, after taking time out for three days to settle the annual all-star game, swings back into action today with most of the interest centered on four teams battling for the American league lead.

The next two weeks in the American race will go a long way toward settling the pennant, and the Chicago White Sox, Boston Red Sox, New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians well know it.

Boston, one game back of the leading White Sox, tackles Chicago in the main dish as hostilities resume with a two-night double-header at Comiskey Park. Chicago has a 14-game home stand, meeting all four of the eastern clubs on their western tour.

Yanks At Cleveland
The other top drawer attraction is a night game at Cleveland, where the New Yankees hope to get back on the victory trail after their disastrous experience at Boston where they dropped three straight last weekend. New York is two games behind Chicago, while the Indians are four.

Meanwhile, the high-stepping Brooklyn Dodgers, riding on an eight and one-half game edge over the second place New York Giants in the National loop, open a 12-game home stand. The Chicago Cubs, beaten seven times in 11 games this year by the Bums, start the Ebbets field festivities tonight.

Delta Hardware Girls Face Gladstone Boys
The Delta Hardware girls softball team will face a boys recreation league team from Gladstone this evening at 6:30 at the city park diamond.

Marge Hurley and Barbara Jensen will be the battery for the Deltas who will be seeking revenge for a 5-4 loss at Gladstone a few weeks ago.

Saturday the Delta girls will travel to Menominee for a lighted game against the Menominee Maids, defending U. P. champions. Gail Boucher will be on the mound for the Escanaba team.

Brewer Lead Is Cut To One Game In AA
(By The Associated Press)
The Milwaukee Brewers last night had their AA lead shaved to one full game in splitting a twin bill with third place St. Paul 12-1 and 2-3 in 10 innings, while Kansas City took a single encounter from Minneapolis, 10-6.

Last-place Columbus uncorked a 16-hit attack to wallop Louisville 10-6. The Indianapolis at Toledo game was rained out.

The 1951 Michigan State baseball team set an all-time home run record for the school by hitting 27 round trippers in 26 games.

Tennis Tournaments At Gladstone Next Week

GLADSTONE — Two tennis tournaments will be held here next week, with competition in doubles and singles for boys, girls and adults.

The tournaments will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with matches at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. each day.

Entries from Escanaba will be welcomed, it was announced today by Beverly Burt, recreation director, who is tournament manager.

Age groups for young people are 9-12, 13-15 and 16-18 for both boys and girls. Adult division covers the 18-and-over ages.

Entry fee is 40 cents per entrant and covers all of the events in which the entrant wishes to compete. Any entrant may compete in his own division or any division above it, but not below.

Entry fee must be paid in advance. Application blanks are available at the Escanaba recreation department's club 314, or by calling Recreation Director Arthur Peterson at his home between five and six o'clock.

No Names Edge Westbys 10-9
No Names edged Westby's Service last night in a 10-9 American league softball clash at Memorial field, with big Ray Ebl driving in the winning run in the top of the seventh.

Ike Eis notched his sixth mound win for the No Names. Angie Hinn served behind the plate. Westby's climbed on Eis for a big third inning in which six runs scored and led 8-2 going into the sixth.

In the sixth the No Names duplicated the six-run outburst to tie the score 8-8. Ebl's double with the bases loaded was the key hit off Louis Kositzki on the Westby Hill.

With two out and Pete Hinn perched on first base, Ebl crashed a triple off the center field wall to provide No Names with the winning run. It was Ebl's third hit of the game.

In the final game, White Birch edged Ev's Bar 2-1 with Bill Smith center fielder, homering in the last of the seventh with no body on and two out to break up a 1-1 ball game.

Two-Hitter Tossed By George Bartley
George Bartley served up a two-hitter yesterday as his league-leading St. Thomas team downed St. Ann's 9-1 in a National softball tilt.

Marve Sovey paced the winners at the plate with three hits in four trips. Bill Rodman served behind the plate.

Jerry Gardener was the St. Ann pitcher with Joe LaFave and Legault sharing backstop duty.

Giants are prepared to defend their second place against the St. Louis Cardinals in an afternoon encounter. The Cards are in third, one game back of the Giants.

Cubs Tie 7-7 At Gladstone

The Escanaba Cubs battled the Gladstone Redskins to a 7-7 draw at Gladstone yesterday afternoon in an exhibition game called after the eighth inning because of darkness.

The Cubs sported a 5-1 lead going into the bottom of the sixth when the Redskins reached Fred Boddy on the Cub mound and scored two runs. The Escanaba juniors came back with a run in the top of the seventh but the Redskins pushed four more across in the bottom half.

Boddy was relieved by Jack Chriske with one out, three runs scored and the bases loaded in that inning. Bill Maycunich also came in to replace Jo Jo Johnston behind the plate.

A single in the top of the eighth tied the count at 7-7. Chriske held the Redskins hitless and scoreless in the last of the eighth. He fanned three and walked none.

Sundling went the distance for Gladstone. He fanned eight and walked four while allowing eight hits. Boddy struck out seven, walked one and gave up six hits in six and one-third innings.

Ed Lindquist, second baseman, paced the Cubs at the plate with three for three. Paul Baldwin doubled for the winners and Jacobson for the losers.

Long Home Stand Opens For Tigers
DETROIT—(P)—Hopeful that their rest might have helped, the Detroit Tigers today resumed the tough American league campaign.

Washington's sixth-place Senators were the opposition in the start of a 12-game home stand for Detroit.

The Tigers, now running a bad fifth in the league race, went back to action following three days of idleness during the all-star game interim.

Manager Red Rolfe chose lefty Bob Cain (7-6) to pitch the opener in the new drive to get something better in league position. His foe was expected to be Fred Sanford.

This is now the start of the second half of the campaign. The Tigers are 12 games off the pace. They'll need a long, long run of wins to secure a first division finish, much less a duplication of their 1950 runnerup finish.

The New York Yankees hit town Sunday for a double-header.

The Tri-County league all-star vs. Stephenson game under the Stephenson arc lights tonight will be preceded by the third protest hearing in the circuit this season.

League managers will meet with Commissioner Russ Simmons at Mike Strohl's for the protest hearing. Roy Bagley, vice president of the league, will be chairman with two other managers appointed to the protest board at the meeting.

Protested Game
The protest was submitted by the manager of the Perronville team following a home game against Hermansville on June 24. The protested play came in the last of the ninth inning of the game which was won by Hermansville 4-3.

Trailing by one run, runners on first and third with one out, Perronville's Kelly Johnson hit a short fly to the outfield which was caught by the fielder.

The runner on third, Glenn Johnson, tagged up and scored after the catch. But Art Johnson, on first, hadn't tagged up and was thrown out at first to retire the side. Perronville protested that the run had scored before the final out and that the score should have been tied 4-4.

Game At 8
The Tri-County protest board has heard two previous protests this season, passing judgement on situations involving Bark River and Foster City, Hermansville and Escanaba.

The all-star game, beginning at 8 p. m., will pit the best in the league against Stephenson. Scheduled to represent Escanaba on the all-star club are Mel Karkkainen, pitcher; Dean Bailey, second baseman, and Jim Nyquist, catcher.

Hermansville, Bark River, Foster City, Wallace, Daggett, Perronville and Wilson will also be represented. The all-stars will be managed by Phil Breazeau of Escanaba, Leo Knauf of Bark River, Orton Melchoir of Wallace and Glenn Fleetwood of Hermansville.

Garden Tips Rapid 5-3 In Bay de Noc
Garden posted his fourth Bay de Noc Baseball league win against a single defeat yesterday by whipping Rapid 5-3 in a makeup game at Garden.

Jack Morin scattered seven hits to post the win as his mates reached Dale Gibson for 10 safeties. Gerald Tatrow caught for the winners, Anderson for the losers.

The win, coupled with an 18-3 verdict over Perkins Sunday, moved Garden into third place in the league standings.

Room For More Boys In Baseball Loops
Boys from age eight to 17 who want to join the recreation department baseball leagues have until the July 21 deadline to sign up, it was announced today by Baseball Director Jerome Deloria.

All boys who have department baseball equipment are asked to turn it in immediately. Missing are four catching mitts, two masks, two breast protectors and two sets of shin guards.

Reynolds Vs. Feller
Allie Reynolds (9-5) is the Yankee hurling choice against the Indians Bobby Feller (12-2). New York's pitching staff is shaky, and the once great Joe DiMaggio is riding the bench with torn tendons behind his left knee. Joe was scored to skip the all-star game, and may be out 10 days or more.

The Indians and Yankees have played 15 games this year, and Cleveland has won eight. Cleveland also entertains the other three eastern clubs in a 13-game home stand, then moves east July 24 to start the whole thing over again in Yankee stadium. After departing Cleveland, New York has a pair of three-game series at Detroit and Chicago, then winds up the trip with four at St. Louis.

Ralph Branca (7-2) has been assigned the Brooklyn hurling chore against Paul Minner (4-7) of the Cubs tonight.

Powers Travels To Foster City Friday
A Tri-County league makeup game will be played Friday evening at 6 (EST) with Powers traveling to Foster City.

Manager Garis Fleetwood has asked all Powers players to meet at Fleetwood's Bar at 4:30 (EST) for the trip. The game was rained out on June 24.

Pitching for the first time for Powers will be Joe Rademacher, former Escanaba Bear chucker who has been transferred to the Powers club. Righthander Rademacher will probably face Charlevoix, No. 1 moundsman for Foster City.

Charles And Walcott Have Verbal Exchange
PITTSBURGH—(P)—Heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles is a bit miffed over a remark by Jersey Joe Walcott, who will meet Charles here July 18 in a title go.

Walcott laid off a sparring partner long enough the other day to say he had been robbed of decisions on two occasions when he fought Charles. Ezzard came back yesterday with:

"I've beaten him twice before and had him in trouble and had him down in both fights. If he's going to pop off like that, I'll be sure and kayo him early in the bout."

Both fighters are training near Pittsburgh.

Red Sox-White Sox In Feature Clash

CHICAGO — (P)—Boston's record of 13 wins in their last 17 starts.

But the last time the Red Sox were in Chicago, they won the opener, then dropped four straight.

Critical Series
This series will be critical for the miracle men of Paul Richards, who haven't cracked wide open as many predicted after their 14-straight plurge the last two weeks of May, but who obviously have lost some zing.

The White Sox still are hitting a snappy .284 as a team and six players are belting above .300. But run production has slackened. Then, too, rival batteries are now on the alert for base-running capers by the Sox speedsters.

With the opposition taking them more seriously at every phase of the game, the Chi-Sox are finding the battle a bit up-hill.

The racing strips at Hialeah Park and Sunshine Park have been sown with soy beans to help revitalize the soil.

Sad Memory
Tonight's Comiskey park activity in which Saul Rogovin (5-4) and Joe Dobson (6-3) will hurl against Boston's Mel Parnell (10-5) and Leo Kieley (1-0) will be followed by single engagements Friday night and Saturday afternoon.

The White Sox have sad memories of their last series with the Red Sox in Boston, June 22-24, a visit that resulted in a three-out-of-four pasting.

Since that time, the White Sox have won eight and lost seven while the Red Sox, basking in the confines of friendly Fenway park, swept to 10 more victories against only three defeats for a current
